NEW ENTRY

WHY GO? Scarlett wine bar and restaurant at Pullman Bangkok lives up to its chic reputation, set by its Beijing predecessor. Fun decor, trendy music, plenty of seating options, classic European and Italian fare served at reasonable prices draw the in crowd nightly.

WHAT TO ORDER? The menu includes creations of Michelin-starred chef Manuel Martinez at his Parisian restaurant Le Relais Louis XIII. Home-style smoked salmon fillet with light potato salad and imported cheese as well as cold cut platters are recommended appetisers to share. For mains, try juicy grilled scallops with light truffle dressing or Boston Maine lobster, grilled to tender perfection before drizzling with extra virgin olive oil. Rack of lamb bursts with flavour while wagyu beef cheek braised for 12 hours is garnished with pomme mousseline and mustard jus. Dessertwise, try the luscious sabayon of seasonal fruits.

SIGNATURE DISHES

- > Lobster and foie gras ravioli, cep mushroom cream
- > Grilled scallops, truffle dressing
- > Millefeuille grands augustins

🍷 The wine list has over 150 labels and is sensibly organised by grape varieties. Also includes expensive champagnes with the majority around 2,000 baht.
